Statements in this Annual Report that reflect projections or expectations of future financial or economic performance of the Fund and of the market in general and statements of the Fund's plans and objectives for future operations are forward-looking statements. No assurance can be given that actual results or events will not differ materially from those projected, estimated, assumed or anticipated in any such forward-looking statements. Important factors that could result in such differences, in addition to the other factors noted with such forward-looking statements, include, without limitation, general economic conditions such as inflation, recession and interest rates. Past performance is not a guarantee of future results.

Investment in the Fund is subject to investment risks, including the possible loss of some or all of the principal amount invested. There can be no assurance that the Fund will be successful in meeting its investment objective. Generally, the Fund will be subject to the following additional risks: market risk, management style risk, sector focus risk, foreign securities risk, non-diversified fund risk, credit risk, interest rate risk, maturity risk, investment grade securities risk, junk bonds or lower-rated securities risk, derivative instruments risk, valuation risk for non-exchange traded options, risk from writing call options, real estate securities risk, MLP risk, royalty trust risk, risks related to other equity securities, and portfolio turnover risk. More information about these risks and other risks can be found in the Fund's prospectus and statement of additional information. When the Fund sells covered call options, the Fund gives up additional appreciation in the stock above the strike price since there is the obligation to sell the stock at the covered call option's strike price.

The performance information quoted in this Annual Report represents past performance, which is not a guarantee of future results. Investment return and principal value of an investment will fluctuate so that an investor's shares, when redeemed, may be worth more or less than their original cost. Current performance may be lower or higher than the performance data quoted. An investor may obtain performance data current to the most recent month-end by visiting www.centaurmutualfunds.com.

An investor should consider the investment objectives, risks, and charges and expenses of the Fund carefully before investing. The prospectus contains this and other information about the Fund. A copy of the prospectus is available at www.centaurmutualfunds.com or by calling Shareholder Services at (1-888-484-5766). The prospectus should be read carefully before investing.

Dear Centaur Total Return Fund Investors:

The Fund produced a return of 5.25% for the year ending October 31, 2016. The S&P 500® Total Return Index returned 4.51% for the same period, while the Dow Jones U.S. Select Dividend Total Return Index experienced a gain of 13.49% for the same period.

For the trailing 5-year period ending October 31, 2016, the Fund has produced an annualized return of 8.40%. For the trailing 10-year period, the Fund produced an annualized return of 7.39%. Over the same 5 and 10-year periods, the S&P 500® Total Return Index returned 13.57% and 6.70% annualized, respectively, while the Dow Jones U.S. Select Dividend Total Return Index returned 14.22% and 6.52% annualized, respectively.

From inception in early March 2005 through October 31, 2016, the Fund returned 8.46% annualized. The S&P 500® Total Return Index returned 7.36% and the Dow Jones U.S. Select Dividend Total Return Index returned 7.28%, respectively, for the same period. (For the Fund's most up-to-date performance information, please see our web site at www.centaurmutualfunds.com.)

Performance as of October 31, 2016
Average Annual Total Returns	Past 1 Year	Past 5 Years	Past 10 Years	Since Inception*
Centaur Total Return Fund	5.25%	8.40%	7.39%	8.46%
S&P 500® Total Return Index	4.51%	13.57%	6.70%	7.36%
Dow Jones U.S. Select Dividend Total Return Index	13.49%	14.22%	6.52%	7.28%

Performance shown is for the period ended October 31, 2016. The performance data quoted above represents past performance, which is not a guarantee of future results. Investment return and principal value of an investment in the Fund will fluctuate so that an investor's shares, when redeemed, may be worth more or less than their original cost. Current performance may be lower or higher than the performance data quoted. To obtain more current performance data regarding the Fund, including performance data current to the Fund's most recent month-end, please visit www.centaurmutualfunds.com. Prior to February 28, 2016, a 2% redemption fee was charged upon redemption of the Fund's shares occurring within one year of the issuance of such shares. As of February 28, 2016, the Fund no longer charges a redemption fee. The performance data quoted above does not reflect the deduction of the redemption fee and if reflected, the redemption fee would reduce the performance quoted.

The S&P 500® Total Return Index is the Standard & Poor's composite index of 500 stocks, a widely recognized index of common stock prices.

The Dow Jones U.S. Select Dividend Total Return Index is an index of 100 dividend-paying stocks selected according to a methodology developed and administered by Dow Jones & Co. It is not possible to invest in indices (like the S&P 500® Total Return Index and the U.S. Select Dividend Total Return Index) that are unmanaged and do not incur fees and charges.

* The Fund's inception date is March 16, 2005.

Total Annual Operating Expenses	Net Expense Ratio	Gross Expense Ratio
Centaur Total Return Fund	2.09%	2.58%

 The net expense ratio reflects a contractual expense limitation that continues through February 28, 2017. Thereafter, the expense limitation may be changed or terminated at any time. Performance would have been lower without this expense limitation. The Net Expense Ratio above does not correlate to the ratio of total expenses provided in the Financial Highlights table of the Fund's Annual Report for the year ended October 31, 2016, as the Financial Highlights table does not include Acquired Fund Fees and Expenses.

Thoughts on Recent Fund Performance

The Centaur Total Return Fund returned 5.25% for the year ending October 31, 2016, which was ahead of the broad U.S. equity market (as represented by the S&P500, which returned 4.51% for the same period) but trailed the Dow Jones U.S. Select Dividend Total Return Index, which turned in a stellar 13.49% return. While we are pleased to have achieved a return better than the broad market average for the period, particularly given the Fund's relatively low market exposure, the last year was largely a continuation of what has been a challenging environment for our strategy.

The Fund's primary strategy is to assemble a portfolio of securities that offers both reasonable safety and satisfactory return potential, based largely on our view of the valuations of the securities being attractive relative to underlying business value. We are value investors, and as such we strive to capitalize on market fluctuations to purchase bargain securities when prices reflect fear and uncertainty, and to sell securities when prices reflect full value. Unfortunately, given historically high valuations for U.S. stocks, we have experienced more than the usual difficulty in identifying bargain securities that meet our criteria for value and safety for an extended period of time dating back to late 2013. With fewer bargain securities available, we have become more reliant upon the occasional episodes of market volatility created by fear and uncertainty to help us source new investments, and such episodes have become relatively infrequent and brief during the last three years.

The market did offer us two windows of opportunity in 2016 that we did our best to take advantage of. The first and best opportunity was a double digit percentage decline in the S&P500 in January, which allowed us to identify enough actionable ideas to increase the Fund's market exposure from an all-time low of roughly 40% at calendar year-end 2015 to approximately 70% market exposure by the end of February 2016. The second opportunity came immediately following the unexpected "Brexit" vote in the United Kingdom in June. This event sent U.S. stocks down by roughly 6% in the course of two days (with other global markets experiencing bigger moves) and was followed by a few weeks of choppy conditions before the market rallied strongly into the late summer and early fall. Though brief, the "Brexit" sell-off allowed us to put some capital to work in the face of heavy selling pressure, primarily in the shares of certain financial stocks that were hit by panic selling. In addition, volatility spiked sufficiently in the weeks following the vote to allow us to selectively utilize the covered call component of our strategy, which involves the purchase of securities and selling covered calls against some of our holdings with a goal of producing additional income for the Fund. By the end of June, the Fund was as fully invested as it would get for the year, with total long stock exposure of over 80%. From July to October, we did more selling than buying as certain of the Fund's portfolio securities reached prices that we considered to be fully valued, with the result that the Fund ended the fiscal year with roughly 50% market exposure as of October 31, 2016.

Below is a slightly different presentation of the Fund's performance by calendar year with comparisons to the S&P 500[®] Total Return Index (under the column "S&P500") and the Dow Jones U.S. Select Dividend Total Return Index (under the column "DJ US DIV"). Please note that the figures for 2005 represent the performance from the Fund's launch date in March through year-end; the 2016 figures represent the performance for the first ten calendar months of 2016 through October 31st. As the table shows, the Fund has out-performed both of our stated benchmarks from inception to date, but the Fund has generally struggled to keep pace with the fully invested indices since 2013.

* 2005 return is from the Fund's launch on March 16, 2005 through December 31, 2005
  2016 return is for the YTD period through October 31.

As a quick glance at the table above shows, since 2012 the Fund has produced somewhat pedestrian returns, though the returns on actual capital deployed hasn't been far below our historical standards except for the poor showing in calendar 2015. As best we can determine, the Fund was roughly 65% or so invested on average during the twelve month period ending October 31st, with market exposures ranging from a low of approximately 40% to the mid-summer high of just over 80%. This implies that return on actual cash deployed in the first ten months of calendar 2016 was in excess of 10%. The challenge for us has been maintaining a fully invested portfolio, at least one that is consistent with our traditional discipline regarding valuations, position sizes, and the limitations of various risk factors across the portfolio. We do believe that we are getting better at taking decisive action when the market offers its "limited time only" sales, as demonstrated by our successful deployment of capital in the wake of the U.K. "Brexit" vote in mid-2016. We also continue to believe that market volatility, which has been muted for many years due to a combination of factors including accommodative central bank policies and low interest rates, is likely to revert at least partially to historical levels.

Portfolio Update

As of October 31, 2016, the Centaur Total Return Fund was approximately 50% invested in equities (common and preferred), warrants, exchange-traded and closed-end funds and purchased options spread across 24 holdings, offset by covered call liabilities equal to less than 0.48% of the

Commentary on Fund Holdings

The Fund's two largest holdings at the end of the fiscal year were Berkshire Hathaway and Alleghany, each of which we think of as "total return insurance holding companies" that we believe offer a combination of strong insurance operations with flexible and conservative capital allocation.

Berkshire Hathaway is of course managed by Warren Buffett, who is justifiably recognized as one of the world's most successful investors and the torch-bearer for the value investing style of capital allocation. Unlike many stocks in today's expensive environment, Berkshire Hathaway remains very reasonably valued on historical measures relative to earnings and book value, and we believe the company's immense balance sheet strength remains a rare competitive advantage. Alleghany remains primarily a collection of insurance businesses, though the company has reinvented itself successfully many times in the past and remains flexible and conservative in its capital allocation practices.

Cognizant Solutions is a leading provider of outsourced business processing and technology solutions, providing mission-critical services to a base of over 1,200 mostly large global corporate customers primarily in the areas of banking and insurance, healthcare, logistics, and manufacturing. As an indication of just how successful Cognizant has been, a quick review of the financials from 2005 to 2015 reveals a business that grew top-line revenue roughly 14-fold from $885 million to $12.4 billion. Even more impressively, cash flow profitability improved from $68 million to $1.8 billion (roughly 26-fold) during the same span as the company achieved scale and operating leverage. We initially began buying Cognizant stock following the "Brexit" vote. We added to the Fund's position when the stock sold off further in late September after the company disclosed an internal investigation related to improper payments made by company personnel in India that could be in violation of U.S. anti-bribery laws. We made this incremental investment in the belief that this unfortunate situation is likely to be an issue that will ultimately be resolved without significant financial liability or reputational damage to Cognizant. The stock had already recovered some of its losses by the end of October.

IAC/Interactive Group is a leading media and internet conglomerate that has a multi-decade track record of developing valuable media companies, which have in the past included Expedia, TripAdvisor, Ticketmaster, and The Home Shopping Network. Today, IAC owns a collection of businesses that includes HomeAdvisor, the leading marketplace connecting homeowners with service professionals for home improvement projects, and Vimeo, a fast-growing video platform and video-on-demand marketplace. The most valuable asset at IAC is the company's majority ownership interest in Match Group. Match is the world's largest online dating services provider comprising 45 different brands that IAC took public through an IPO in late 2015. IAC continues to own more than 80% interest in Match, which we think is a unique and under-appreciated asset. We have been impressed with the company's strong history of value creation and recent capital allocation savvy, and we believe that both Match Group and HomeAdvisor have reached a point of industry leadership following a multi-year "land grab" strategy and that both businesses are now demonstrating impressive profitability growth as the businesses mature. We think these businesses could combine continued strong revenue growth with expanding profit margins for several years, and we believed at the time of our purchase of IAC shares that the market price did not fully reflect the value creation potential inherent in these businesses as well as the company's portfolio of other internet and media assets.

Final Thoughts

We remain concerned that U.S. stock market valuations remain elevated relative to historical standards, with a number of measures indicating that stocks have rarely been as expensive as they are today. We would not be surprised if returns for U.S. stocks prove to be far lower than many people expect when looking out over a multi-year period from year-end 2016, but we have confidence that our strategy will enable us to navigate such an environment to the extent that a low-return, higher-volatility scenario does play out over the next several years. In the meantime, we remain committed to our opportunistic, value-oriented approach and will look to take advantage of opportunities as the market offers them. We would like to thank the Fund's investors for your continued confidence.

Respectfully submitted,

Zeke Ashton

This graph assumes an initial $10,000 investment at March 16, 2005, the inception date of the Centaur Total Return Fund (the “Fund”). Prior to February 28, 2016, The Fund charged a redemption fee of 2% of the amount redeemed on redemptions of fund shares occurring within one year following the issuance of such shares. All dividends and distributions are reinvested, if any. This graph depicts the performance of the Fund versus the S&P 500 Total Return Index and the Dow Jones U.S. Select Dividend Total Return Index. It is important to note the Fund is a professionally managed mutual fund while the indices are not available for investment and are unmanaged. The comparison is shown for illustrative purposes only.

* The Fund’s inception date – March 16, 2005 (Date of Initial Public Investment).

 The gross expense ratio shown is from the Fund’s prospectus dated February 28, 2016. This number may vary from the expense ratio shown elsewhere in this report because it is based on a different time period and, if applicable, does not include fee or expense waivers.

Performance quoted above represents past performance, which is no guarantee of future results. Investment return and principal value will fluctuate so that shares, when redeemed, may be worth more or less than their original cost. Current performance may be lower or higher than the performance data quoted. An investor may obtain performance data, current to the most recent month-end, by visiting www.centaurmutualfunds.com.

The graph and table do not reflect the deduction of taxes that a shareholder would pay on Fund distributions or the redemption of Fund shares. Average annual total returns are historical in nature and measure net investment income and capital gain or loss from portfolio investments assuming reinvestments of dividends, if any.

As a shareholder of the Fund, you incur two types of costs: (1) transaction costs and (2) ongoing costs, including management fees and other Fund expenses. This example is intended to help you understand your ongoing costs (in dollars) of investing in the Fund and to compare these costs with the ongoing costs of investing in other mutual funds. The example is based on an investment of $1,000 invested at the beginning of the period and held for the entire period as indicated below.

Actual Expenses – The first line of the table below provides information about the actual account values and actual expenses. You may use the information in this line, together with the amount you invested, to estimate the expenses that you paid over the period. Simply divide your account value by $1,000 (for example, an $8,600 account value divided by $1,000 = 8.6), then multiply the result by the number in the first line under the heading entitled “Expenses Paid During Period” to estimate the expenses you paid on your account during this period.

Hypothetical Example for Comparison Purposes – The second line of the table below provides information about hypothetical account values and hypothetical expenses based on the Fund’s actual expense ratio and an assumed annual rate of return of 5% before expenses, which is not the Fund’s actual return. The hypothetical account values and expenses may not be used to estimate the actual ending account balance or expenses you paid for the period. You may use this information to compare the ongoing costs of investing in the Fund and other funds by comparing this 5% hypothetical example with the 5% hypothetical examples that appear in the shareholder reports of other funds. Please note that the expenses shown in the table are meant to highlight your ongoing costs only and do not reflect any direct costs, such as wire fees or low balance fees. Therefore, the second line of the table is useful in comparing ongoing costs and will not help you determine the relative total costs of owning different funds. In addition, if these direct costs were included, your costs would be higher.

	Beginning Account Value May 1, 2016	Ending Account Value October 31, 2016	Expenses Paid During Period ⁽¹⁾	Annualized Expense Ratio

Hypothetical ⁽²⁾	$ 1,000.00	$ 1,015.33	$ 9.88	1.95%

1. ORGANIZATION

The Centaur Total Return Fund (the "Fund") is an active investment portfolio of The Centaur Mutual Funds Trust (the "Trust"), which is organized as a Delaware statutory trust and is registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940 (the "1940 Act"), as amended, as an open-end management investment company. The Fund is classified as non-diversified as defined in the 1940 Act.

The Fund commenced operations on March 16, 2005. The investment objective of the Fund is to seek maximum total return through a combination of capital appreciation and current income. The Fund invests in companies that Centaur Capital Partners, L.P. (the "Advisor") believes to be undervalued in their respective markets, but which also offer high dividend yields relative to the average yields of the broad market.

2. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

The following is a summary of significant accounting policies consistently followed by the Fund. The policies are in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America ("GAAP"). The Fund is considered an investment company for financial reporting purposes under GAAP.

Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with GAAP requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of increases and decreases in the net assets from operations during the reported period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Investment Valuation

The Fund's investments in securities are carried at fair value. Securities listed on an exchange or quoted on a national market system are valued at the last sales price as of 4:00 p.m. Eastern Time. Securities traded in the NASDAQ over-the-counter market are generally valued at the NASDAQ Official Closing Price. Other securities traded in the over-the-counter market and listed securities for which no sale was reported on that date are valued at the most recent bid price. Securities and assets for which representative market quotations are not readily available or which cannot be accurately valued using the Fund's normal pricing procedures are valued at fair value as determined in good faith under policies approved by the Trustees. Fair value pricing may be used, for example, in situations where (i) a portfolio security is so thinly traded that there have been no transactions for that security over an extended period of time; (ii) the exchange on which the portfolio security is principally traded closes early; or (iii) trading of the portfolio security is halted during the day and does not resume prior to the Fund's net asset value calculation. A portfolio security's "fair value" price may differ from the price next available for that portfolio security using the Fund's normal pricing procedures. Instruments with maturities of 60 days or less are valued at amortized cost, which approximates market value.

Option Valuation

Exchange-listed options are valued at their last quoted sales price as reported on their primary exchange as of 4:00 p.m. Eastern Time (the "Valuation Time"). For purposes of determining the primary exchange for each exchange-traded portfolio option the following shall apply: (i) if the option is traded on the Chicago Board Options Exchange ("CBOE"), the CBOE shall be considered the primary exchange for such option, unless the Advisor instructs the Administrator in writing to use a different exchange as the primary exchange for such option; and (ii) if the option does not trade on the CBOE, the Advisor shall instruct the Administrator in writing as to the primary exchange for such option. Unlisted options for which market quotations are readily available are valued at the last quoted sales price at the Valuation Time. If an option is not traded on the valuation date, the option shall be priced at the mean of the last quoted bid and ask prices as of the Valuation Time. An option may be valued using Fair Valuation when (i) the option does not trade on the valuation date; and (ii) reliable last quoted bid and ask prices as of the Valuation Time are not readily available.

Fair Value Measurement

GAAP establishes a framework for measuring fair value and expands disclosure about fair value measurements. Various inputs are used in determining the value of the Fund's investments. These inputs are summarized in the three broad levels listed below:

- Level 1 – Unadjusted quoted prices in active markets for identical, unrestricted assets or liabilities that the Fund has the ability to access at the measurement date;
- Level 2 – Quoted prices which are not active, quoted prices for similar assets or liabilities in active markets or inputs other than quoted prices that are observable (either directly or indirectly) for substantially the full term of the asset or liability; and
- Level 3 – Significant unobservable prices or inputs (including the Fund's own assumptions in determining the fair value of investments) where there is little or no market activity for the asset or liability at the measurement date.

The availability of observable inputs can vary from security to security and is affected by a wide variety of factors, including, for example, the type of security, whether the security is new and not yet established in the marketplace, the liquidity of markets, and other characteristics particular to the security. To the extent that valuation is based on models or inputs that are less observable or unobservable in the market, the determination of fair value requires more judgment. Accordingly, the degree of judgment exercised in determining fair value is greatest for instruments categorized in Level 3.

An investment asset's or liability's level within the fair value hierarchy is based on the lowest level input, individually or in the aggregate, that is significant to fair value measurement.

The valuation techniques used by the Fund to measure fair value during the year ended October 31, 2016 maximized the use of observable inputs and minimized the use of unobservable inputs.

The inputs or methodology used for valuing securities are not necessarily an indication of the risk associated with investing in those securities. The following is a summary of the inputs used in valuing the Fund's assets and liabilities as of October 31, 2016:

Centaur Total Return Fund

For the year ended October 31, 2016, there have been no significant changes to the Fund's fair value methodologies. The Fund recognizes transfers between levels as of the end of the annual period in which the transfer occurred. As of October 31, 2016, there were no transfers between Level 1, Level 2 and Level 3 for the Fund.

For the year ended October 31, 2016, the Fund did not have investments with significant unobservable inputs (Level 3) used in determining fair value.

Underlying Investment In Other Investment Companies

The Fund currently seeks to achieve its investment objectives by investing a portion of its assets in Fidelity Investments Money Market Fund – Government Portfolio. The Fund may redeem its investment from the Fidelity Investments Money Market Fund – Government Portfolio at any time if the Advisor determines that it is in the best interest of the Fund and its shareholders to do so.

The performance of the Fund may be directly affected by the performance of the Fidelity Investments Money Market Fund. The financial statements of the Fidelity Investments Money Market Fund, a series of the Fidelity Funds, including the portfolio of investments, are included in the Fidelity Investments Money Market Fund's N-CSR filing dated June 7, 2016, available at www.sec.gov or can be found at www.fidelity.com and should be read in conjunction with the Fund's financial statements. As of October 31, 2016, the percentage of net assets invested in the Fidelity Investments Money Market Fund was 49.85%.

Derivative Financial Instruments

The following discloses the Fund's use of derivative instruments:

The Fund's investment objective not only permits the Fund to purchase investment securities, it also allows the Fund to enter into various types of derivative contracts such as purchased and written options. In doing so, the Fund will employ strategies in differing combinations to permit it to increase, decrease, or change the level or types of exposure to market factors. Central to those strategies are features inherent to derivatives that make them more attractive for this purpose than equity or debt securities; they require little or no initial cash investment, they can focus exposure on only certain selected risk factors, and they may not require the ultimate receipt or delivery of the underlying security (or securities) to the contract. This may allow the Fund to pursue its objectives more quickly and efficiently than if it were to make direct purchases or sales of securities capable of affecting a similar response to market factors.

Market Risk Factors: In pursuit of the investment objectives, the Fund may seek to use derivatives to increase or decrease its exposure to the following market risk factors:

Equity Risk: Equity risk relates to the change in value of equity securities as they relate to increases or decreases in the general market.

Foreign Exchange Rate Risk: Foreign exchange rate risk relates to the change in the U.S. dollar value of a security held that is denominated in a foreign currency. The value of a foreign currency denominated security will decrease as the dollar appreciates against the currency, while the value of the foreign currency denominated security will increase as the dollar depreciates against the currency.

Risk of Investing in Derivatives

The Fund's use of derivatives can result in losses due to unanticipated changes in the market risk factors and the overall market.

Derivatives may have little or no initial cash investment relative to their market value exposure and therefore can produce significant gains or losses in excess of their cost. This use of embedded leverage allows the Fund to increase its market value exposure relative to its net assets and can substantially increase the volatility of the Fund's performance.

Additional associated risks from investing in derivatives also exist and potentially could have significant effects on the valuation of the derivatives and the Fund. Typically, the associated risks are not the risks that the Fund is attempting to increase or decrease exposure to, per the investment objectives, but are the additional risks from investing in derivatives.

One example of these associated risks is liquidity risk, which is the risk that the Fund will not be able to sell the derivative in the open market in a timely manner, and counterparty credit risk, which is the risk that the counterparty will not fulfill its obligation to the Fund.

Option Writing/Purchasing

The Fund may write or purchase option contracts to adjust risk and return of its overall investment positions. When the Fund writes or purchases an option, an amount equal to the premium received or paid by the Fund is recorded as a liability or an asset and is subsequently adjusted to the current market value of the option written or purchased. Premiums received or paid from writing or purchasing options that expire unexercised are treated by the Fund on the expiration date as realized gains or losses. The difference between the premium and the amount paid or received on affecting a closing purchase or sale transaction, including brokerage commissions, is also treated as a realized gain or loss. If an option is exercised, the premium paid or received is added to or subtracted from the cost of the purchase or proceeds from the sale in determining whether the Fund has realized a gain or loss on investment transactions. Risks from entering into option transactions arise from the potential inability of counterparties to meet the terms of the contracts, the potential inability to enter into closing transactions because of an illiquid secondary market and from unexpected movements in security values. Written option activity for the fiscal year ended October 31, 2016 was as follows:

Balance Sheet Offsetting Information

During the ordinary course of business, the Fund may enter into transactions subject to enforceable netting agreements or other similar arrangements ("netting agreements"). Generally, the right to offset in netting agreements allows a Fund to offset any exposure to a specific counterparty with any collateral received or delivered to that counterparty based on the terms of the agreement. Generally, a Fund manages its cash collateral and securities collateral on a counterparty basis. As of October 31, 2016, the Fund was not invested in any portfolio securities or derivatives that could be netted subject to netting arrangements. The following table provides a summary of amounts related to derivative instruments and amounts related to financial instruments and cash collateral not offset in the Statement of Assets and Liabilities as of October 31, 2016:

	Gross Amounts Presented in Statement of Assets and Liabilities	Amounts not Offset in Statement of Assets and Liabilities		Net Amount
		Financial Instruments	Cash Collateral

Derivative Type	Unit of Measurement	Monthly Average
Written Option Contracts	Contracts	(541)

Foreign Currency Translation

Portfolio securities and other assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated into U.S. dollars based on the exchange rate of such currencies against U.S. dollars on the date of valuation. Purchases and sales of securities and income items denominated in foreign currencies are translated into U.S. dollars at the exchange rate in effect on the transaction date. The Fund does not separately report the effect of changes in foreign exchange rates from changes in market prices on securities held. Such changes are included in net realized and unrealized gain or loss from investments.

Realized foreign exchange gains or losses arise from sales of foreign currencies, currency gains or losses realized between the trade and settlement dates on securities transactions and the difference between the recorded amounts of dividends, interest, and foreign withholding taxes, and the U.S. dollar equivalent of the amounts actually received or paid. Net unrealized foreign exchange gains and losses arise from changes in foreign exchange rates on foreign denominated assets and liabilities other than investments in securities held at the end of the reporting period.

Investment Transactions and Investment Income

Investment transactions are accounted for as of the date purchased or sold (trade date). Dividend income is recorded on the ex-dividend date. Certain dividends from foreign securities will be recorded as soon as the Fund is informed of the dividend if such information is obtained subsequent to the ex-dividend date. Interest income is recorded on the accrual basis and includes amortization of discounts and premiums. Gains and losses are determined on the identified cost basis, which is the same basis used for federal income tax purposes.

Expenses

The Fund bears expenses incurred specifically for the Fund and general Trust expenses.

Dividend Distributions

The Fund may declare and distribute dividends from net investment income (if any) at the end of each calendar quarter. Distributions from capital gains (if any) are generally declared and distributed annually. Dividends and distributions to shareholders are recorded on ex-date.

Fees on Redemptions

The Fund previously charged a redemption fee of 2.00% on redemptions of Fund's shares occurring within one year following the issuance of such shares. The redemption fee was not a fee to finance sales or sales promotion expenses, but was paid to the Fund to defray the costs of liquidating an investor and discouraging short-term trading of the Fund's shares. No redemption fee was imposed on the redemption of shares representing dividends or capital gains distributions, or on amounts representing capital appreciation of shares. The redemption fees charged for the year ended October 31, 2016 was $2,212. As of February 28, 2016, the Fund no longer charges a redemption fee.

Warrants

The Fund may invest in warrants. The Fund may purchase warrants issued by domestic and foreign companies to purchase newly created equity securities consisting of common and/or preferred stock. Warrants are derivatives that give the holder the right, but not the obligation to purchase equity issues of the company issuing the warrants, or a related company, at a fixed price either on a date certain or during a set period. The equity security underlying a warrant is authorized at the time the warrant is issued or is issued together with the warrant.

Investing in warrants can provide a greater potential for profit or loss than an equivalent investment in the underlying security, and, thus, can be a speculative investment. At the time of issue, the cost of a warrant is substantially less than the cost of the underlying security itself, and price movements in the underlying security are generally magnified in the price movements of the warrant. This leveraging effect enables the investor to gain exposure to the underlying security with a relatively low capital investment.

This leveraging increases an investor's risk; however, in the event of a decline in the value of the underlying security, a complete loss of the amount invested in the warrant may result. In addition, the price of a warrant tends to be more volatile than, and may not correlate exactly to, the price of the underlying security. If the market price of the underlying security is below the exercise price of the warrant on its expiration date, the warrant will generally expire without value. The value of a warrant may decline because of a decline in the value of the underlying security, the passage of time, changes in interest rates or in the dividend or other policies of the company whose equity underlies the warrant or a change in the perception as to the future price of the underlying security, or any combination thereof. Warrants generally pay no dividends and confer no voting or other rights other than to purchase the underlying security.

Federal Income Taxes

As of and during the year ended October 31, 2016, the Fund did not have a liability for any unrecognized tax benefits. The Fund files U.S. federal, state, and local tax returns as required. The Fund's tax returns are subject to examination by the relevant tax authorities until expiration of the applicable statute of limitations which is generally three years after the filing of the tax return. Tax returns for open years have incorporated no uncertain tax positions that require a provision for income taxes.

The Fund's policy is to continue to comply with the requirements of the Internal Revenue Code that are applicable to regulated investment companies and to distribute all its taxable income to its shareholders. The Fund also intends to distribute sufficient net investment income and net capital gains, if any, so that it will not be subject to excise tax on undistributed income and gains. Therefore, no federal income tax or excise tax provision is required.

3. TRANSACTIONS WITH AFFILIATES

Advisor

Centaur Capital Partners, L.P. is the Fund's investment advisor (the "Advisor"). The Fund pays the Advisor a monthly fee based upon the average daily net assets of the Fund and calculated at an annual rate of 1.50%. For the year ended October 31, 2016, the Advisor earned advisory fees of $409,804.

The Advisor entered into a contractual agreement ("Expense Limit Agreement") with the Fund through February 28, 2017, to reduce a portion of its advisory fee and to reimburse the Fund for other expenses to the extent necessary so that the total expenses incurred by the Fund (exclusive of interest, taxes, brokerage commissions, other expenditures which are capitalized in accordance with GAAP, other extraordinary expenses, dividend expense on securities sold short, "acquired fund fees and expenses" and 12b-1 fees) do not exceed 1.95% of the average daily net assets of the Fund. For the year ended October 31, 2016, the Advisor reduced expenses in the amount of $235,442.

Administrator

Ultimus Fund Solutions, LLC ("Ultimus" or the "Administrator") serves as the Trust's administrator pursuant to a Master Services Agreement with the Trust which became effective October 31, 2016. The Administrator is also reimbursed by the Trust for certain out-of-pocket expenses.

Prior to October 31, 2016, ALPS Fund Services, Inc. ("ALPS" or the "Prior Administrator") served as the Trust's administrator pursuant to an Administration, Bookkeeping and Pricing Services Agreement ("Administration Agreement") with the Trust. The Prior Administrator was also reimbursed by the Trust for certain out-of-pocket expenses.

Compliance Services

Ultimus provides services which assist the Trust's Chief Compliance Officer ("CCO") in monitoring and testing the policies and procedures of the Trust in connection with the requirements under Rule 38a-1 under the 1940 Act and is compensated under an agreement for these services. Prior to October 31, 2016, ALPS provided services which assisted the Trust's CCO in monitoring and testing the policies and procedures of the Trust in conjunction with requirements under Rule 38a-1 under the 1940 Act and was compensated under the Administration Agreement for these services.

Transfer Agent

Ultimus serves as transfer, dividend paying, and shareholder servicing agent for the Fund. Ultimus is compensated based upon an annual base fee. The Transfer Agent is also reimbursed by the Fund for certain out-of-pocket expenses.

Prior to October 31, 2016, ALPS served as transfer, dividend paying, and shareholder servicing agent for the Fund. ALPS was compensated based upon an annual base fee and was also reimbursed by the Fund for certain out-of-pocket expenses.

Distributor

Ultimus Fund Distributors, LLC (the "Distributor") serves as the Trust's Distributor. The Distributor acts an agent for the Trust and the distributor of its shares. The Distributor is compensated by the Advisor for its services provided to the Trust.

Prior to October 31, 2016, ALPS Distributors, Inc. (the "Prior Distributor") serves as the Fund's distributor. The Prior Distributor acted as an agent for the Fund and the distributor of its shares.

Certain officers of the Trust are also officers of the Advisor or the Administrator.

4. PURCHASES AND SALES OF INVESTMENT SECURITIES

The aggregate cost of purchases and proceeds from sales of investment securities, excluding short-term securities, are $20,011,019 and $30,112,020, respectively, for the year ended October 31, 2016. There were no purchases or sales of U.S. government securities for the year ended October 31, 2016.

5. FEDERAL INCOME TAXES

Distributions are determined in accordance with Federal income tax regulations, which differ from GAAP, and, therefore, may differ significantly in amount or character from net investment income and realized gains for financial reporting purposes. Financial reporting records are adjusted for permanent book/tax differences to reflect tax character but are not adjusted for temporary differences.

Management has reviewed the Fund's tax positions to be taken on federal income tax returns for the open tax years of 2013, 2014 and 2015 and as of and during the fiscal year ended October 31, 2016, and has determined that the Fund does not have a liability for uncertain tax positions. The Fund recognizes interest and penalties, if any, related to unrecognized tax benefits as income tax expense in the Statement of Operations. During the year, the Fund did not incur any interest or penalties.

Permanent differences in book and tax accounting were reclassified. Those reclassifications relate primarily to differing book/tax treatment of net operating loss, gain on the sale of PFIC securities, foreign currency transactions, and other certain investments. For the fiscal year ended October 31, 2016, the following reclassifications, which had no impact on results of operations or net assets, were recorded to reflect tax character:

	Paid-in Capital	Accumulated Net Investment Loss	Accumulated Net Realized Loss on Investments
Centaur Total Return Fund	$ —	$ 251,283	$ (251,283)

Distributions paid during the fiscal years ended October 31, were characterized for tax purposes as follows:

	For the fiscal year ended	Ordinary Income	Long-Term Capital Gains
Centaur Total Return Fund	10/31/2016	$ 960,176	$ 527,789
	10/31/2015	2,532,429	728,643

As of October 31, 2016, the aggregate cost of investments, gross unrealized appreciation and net unrealized depreciation for Federal tax purposes was as follows:

	Cost of Investments for Income Tax Purposes	Gross Unrealized Appreciation	Gross Unrealized Depreciation	Net Depreciation of Derivatives and Foreign Currency	Net Unrealized Appreciation
Centaur Total Return Fund	$ 24,712,125	$ 1,369,805	$ (693,803)	$ (38,623)	$ 637,379

As of October 31, 2016, the components of distributable earnings on a tax basis were as follows:

	Undistributed Ordinary Income	Accumulated Capital Gains	Net Unrealized Appreciation on Investments, Derivatives and Foreign Currency	Total Distributable Earnings
Centaur Total Return Fund	$ 725,592	$ 541,200	$ 637,379	$ 1,904,171

The difference between book basis and tax basis net unrealized appreciation/(depreciation) is attributable to the deferral of losses from wash sales, and the mark to market of passive foreign investment companies.

As of October 31, 2016, the Fund had no accumulated capital loss carryforwards.

6. COMMITMENTS AND CONTINGENCIES

Under the Trust's organizational documents, its Officers and Trustees are indemnified against certain liabilities arising out of the performance of their duties to the Fund. In addition, in the normal course of business, the Trust entered into contracts with its service providers, on behalf of the Fund, and others that provide for general indemnifications. The Fund's maximum exposure under these arrangements is unknown, as this would involve future claims that may be made against the Fund. The Fund expects the risk of loss to be remote.

7. TRUSTEE COMPENSATION

As of October 31, 2016, there were two Trustees, both of whom are not "interested persons" (as defined in the 1940 Act) of the Trust (the "Independent Trustees"). Each of the Independent Trustees receives a fee of $2,000 each year plus $500 per series of the Trust per meeting attended in person and $200 per series of the Trust per meeting attended by telephone. The officers of the Trust will not receive compensation from the Trust for performing the duties of their offices. All Trustees and officers are reimbursed for any out-of-pocket expenses incurred in connection with attendance at meetings.

8. INVESTMENT COMPANY REPORTING MODERNIZATION

In October 2016, the Securities and Exchange Commission (the "SEC") released its Final Rule on Investment Company reporting Modernization (the "Rule"). The Rule which introduces two new regulatory reporting forms for investment companies – Form N-PORT and Form N-CEN – also contains amendments to Regulation S-X which impacts financial statement presentation, particularly the presentation of derivative investments. Although still evaluating the impact of the Rule, management believes that many of the Regulation S-X amendments are consistent with the Fund's current financial statement presentation and expect that the Fund will be able to comply with the Rule's Regulation S-X amendments by the August 1, 2017 compliance date.

9. SUBSEQUENT EVENTS

Management of the Fund has evaluated the need for disclosure and/or adjustments resulting from subsequent events through the date these financial statements were issued. On December 9, 2016, the Fund declared short-term capital gains and long-term capital gains of $725,593 and $541,200, respectively, which were payable on December 9, 2016.

REPORT OF INDEPENDENT REGISTERED PUBLIC ACCOUNTING FIRM

To the Board of Trustees of Centaur Mutual Funds Trust and the Shareholders of Centaur Total Return Fund

We have audited the accompanying statement of assets and liabilities of Centaur Total Return Fund, a series of shares of beneficial interest in Centaur Mutual Funds Trust, (the “Fund”) including the schedule of investments, as of October 31, 2016, and the related statement of operations for the year then ended, the statements of changes in net assets for each of the years in the two-year period then ended and the financial highlights for each of the years in the five-year period then ended. These financial statements and financial highlights are the responsibility of the Fund’s management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements and financial highlights based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with the standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States). Those standards require that we plan and perform the audits to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements and financial highlights are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. Our procedures included confirmation of securities owned as of October 31, 2016 by correspondence with the custodian and brokers. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, the financial statements and financial highlights referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Centaur Total Return Fund as of October 31, 2016, and the results of its operations for the year then ended, the changes in its net assets for each of the years in the two-year period then ended and its financial highlights for each of the years in the five-year period then ended, in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

3. TAX INFORMATION:

The Centaur Total Return Fund designates 18.23% of the income dividends distributed between January 1, 2015 and December 31, 2015, as qualified dividend income (QDI) as defined in Section 1(h)(11) of the Internal Revenue Code.

Pursuant to Section 854(b)(2) of the Internal Revenue Code, the Centaur Total Return Fund designates 15.13% of the ordinary income dividends distributed between January 1, 2015 and December 31, 2015, as qualifying for the corporate dividends received deduction.

In early 2016, if applicable, shareholders of record should have received this information for the distributions paid to them by the Fund during the calendar year 2015 via Form 1099. The Fund will notify shareholders in early 2017 of amounts paid to them by the Fund, if any, during the calendar year 2016.

Pursuant to Section 852(b)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code, the Centaur Total Return Fund designated $527,789 as long-term capital gain dividends.

4. APPROVAL OF ADVISORY AGREEMENT

On June 7, 2016, after considering the presentation by Centaur Capital Partners, L.P. ("Advisor"), the investment advisor to the Centaur Total Return Fund (the "Fund") and reviewing other information received by the Board of Trustees, and after consultation by the Independent Trustees with their independent counsel, the Board of Trustees, with the Independent Trustees voting separately, unanimously approved the renewal of the Investment Advisory Agreement between the Advisor and the Trust (the "Advisory Agreement") with respect to the Fund. In determining whether to renew the Advisory Agreement, the Trustees considered, among other things: (1) the nature, extent and quality of the services to be provided by the Advisor; (2) the investment performance of the Fund and the Advisor; (3) the costs of the services to be provided and profits to be realized by the Advisor from its relationship with the Fund; (4) the extent to which economies of scale would be realized as the Fund grows and whether management fee levels reflect these economies of scale for the benefit of the Fund's investors; (5) the Advisor's practices regarding brokerage and portfolio transactions; and (6) the Advisor's practices regarding possible conflicts of interest.

Throughout this process, the Independent Trustees were advised and supported by independent counsel to the Independent Trustees.

- (i) The nature, extent, and quality of the services provided by the Advisor. In this regard, the Trustees reviewed the services being provided by the Advisor to the Fund including, without limitation, the quality of its investment advisory services since the Fund's inception (including research and recommendations with respect to portfolio securities); its procedures for formulating investment recommendations and assuring compliance with the Fund's investment objectives and limitations; its coordination of services for the Fund among the Fund's service providers; and its efforts to promote the Fund, grow the Fund's assets, and assist in the distribution of Fund shares. The Board also considered that the Trust's president, principal executive officer, principal financial officer and Chief Compliance Officer are either employees or agents of the Advisor, and serve the Trust without additional compensation from the Fund. After reviewing the foregoing information and further information (which included the Advisor's Form ADV and descriptions of the Advisor's business and compliance programs), the Board concluded that the nature, extent, and quality of the services provided by the Advisor were satisfactory and adequate for the Fund.
- (ii) The investment performance of the Fund and the Advisor. In this regard, the Trustees compared the performance of the Fund with the performance of its benchmark indices, comparable funds with similar objectives managed by other investment advisors, and comparable peer group indices. The Board noted that although the Fund performance lagged its benchmarks and Morningstar peer group during recent years, the Fund had outperformed its benchmarks and Morningstar peer group since the Fund's inception. The Board also noted that recent performance of the Fund had improved and that the Advisor had reasonably demonstrated that it followed a reasoned and logical process for selecting investments for the Fund. The Trustees also considered the consistency of the Advisor's management of the Fund with the Fund's investment objectives and strategies. After reviewing the short and long-term investment performance of the Fund, the Advisor's experience managing the Fund and other advisory accounts, the Advisor's historical investment performance, and other factors, the Board concluded that the investment performance of the Fund and the Advisor were acceptable.

- (iii) The costs of the services to be provided and profits to be realized by the Advisor from the relationship with the Fund. In this regard, the Trustees considered the Advisor's staffing, personnel, and methods of operating; the education and experience of the Advisor's personnel; the Advisor's compliance programs, policies and procedures; the financial condition of the Advisor; the level of commitment to the Fund by the Advisor and its principals; the current and projected asset levels of the Fund; and the overall expenses of the Fund, including the nature and frequency of advisory fee payments. The Trustees reviewed the financial statements for the Advisor and discussed the financial stability and profitability of the firm. The Trustees considered potential benefits for the Advisor in managing the Fund, including promotion of the Advisor's name, the ability for the Advisor to place small accounts into the Fund, and the potential for the Advisor to generate soft dollars from certain of the Fund's trades that may benefit the Advisor's other clients as well. The Trustees also reviewed the fees paid to the Advisor under the Investment Advisory Agreement and the differences in fees charged and services provided by the Advisor to its other clients. The Trustees further reviewed the Fund's expense limitation agreement with the Advisor and considered that the Advisor has represented that it intends to continue the expense limitation agreement for the Fund until at least February 28, 2018.

The Trustees then compared the fees and expenses of the Fund (including the management fee) to other funds comparable to the Fund in terms of the type of fund, the style of management of the fund, the size of the fund, and the nature of the fund's investment strategy, among other factors. With respect to the Fund, the Trustees determined that, while the management fee and net expense ratio were higher than the comparable funds and the peer group average, the Advisor had describe its unique investment style for the Fund and the size of the Fund was much smaller than the peer group average. Following this comparison and upon further consideration and discussion of the foregoing, the Board concluded that the fees to be paid to the Advisor were fair and reasonable in relation to the nature and quality of the services to be provided by the Advisor.

- (iv) The extent to which economies of scale would be realized as the Fund grows and whether advisory fee levels reflect those economies of scale for the benefit of the Fund's investors. In this regard, the Trustees considered the appropriateness of the fee arrangement with the Advisor, including both the management fee and the expense limitation agreement. The Trustees indicated that, that while the management fee remained the same at all asset levels, the Fund's shareholders would experience benefits from the Fund's expense limitation agreement with the Advisor and would benefit from economies of scale under the Fund's agreement with other service providers. Following further discussion of the Fund's asset level, expectations of growth, and the fee levels, the Board determined that the Advisor's fee arrangement was fair and reasonable.
- (v) The Advisor's practices regarding brokerage and portfolio transactions. In this regard, the Trustees reviewed the Advisor's standards, and performance in utilizing those standards, for seeking best execution for the Fund's portfolio transactions. The Trustees also considered the current and anticipated portfolio turnover rates for the Fund; the process by which the Advisor evaluates the overall reasonableness of commissions paid; the method and basis for selecting and evaluating the broker-dealers used; and any anticipated allocation of portfolio business to persons affiliated with the Advisor. After further review and discussion, the Board determined that the Advisor's practices regarding brokerage and portfolio transactions were satisfactory.
- (vi) The Advisor's practices regarding possible conflicts of interest. In this regard, the Trustees evaluated the potential for conflicts of interest and considered such matters as the experience and ability of the advisory personnel assigned to the Fund; the basis of decisions to buy or sell securities for the Fund and/or the Advisor's other accounts; the Advisor's process for allocating trades among its various clients; the process and method for bunching of portfolio securities transactions; and the substance and administration of the Advisor's code of ethics, specifically as it relates to possible conflicts of interest. Following further consideration and discussion, the Board indicated that the Advisor's standards and practices relating to the identification and mitigation of possible conflicts of interest were satisfactory.

Following its consideration of all of the foregoing, the Board of Trustees unanimously approved the renewal of the Advisory Agreement. No single factor was considered in isolation or to be determinative to the decision of the Trustees to approve the renewal of the Advisory Agreement. Rather, the Trustees concluded, in light of their weighing and balancing all factors, that approval of the Advisory Agreement was in the best interests of the Fund and its shareholders.
